

Dear Shooter,

I hope everyone has managed to stay clear of the coronavirus over these past couple of years? Now that the light at the end of the tunnel has finally been turned back on, it seems to be an opportune time to reintroduce some competitive shooting for you all. We are also being asked if we are running competitions again, so it seems that a lot of you are ready!

All entrants may experience the flexibility that we allow in terms of 'shoot-by' dates:-

With the exception of our final round, the shoot by date is perhaps more of a guideline than 'set in stone', although for result purposes it is helpful to try and keep somewhere 'with the program', you may get the occasional prompt if it appears you are being over-tardy with score or card submissions! We ARE extremely rigid on our final round because we have to order prizes for divisional winners. Primarily this flexibility was for the police shooters who can be called in to work at the drop of a hat (not helpful if it is your shooting day) or injured on duty. Whilst non-police shooters aren't likely to be subject to these injustices there is no reason why the flexibility cannot be extended to everyone.

NSRA rules apply, with the addition of "common sense" if appropriate. You may use NSRA targets by all means but we would accept any variant printed on the appropriate card to the same dimensions (ie: Kruger, Edelmann etc)

For air pistol, targets may be shot on card or electronic targets. If you have electronic targets at 25 yards you may shoot your competition using this targetry.

Any electronic targets need to be registered with the NSRA and adhere to NSRA Rules 1.10.9.1 to 1.10.9.3 (inclusive) / 7.4.4 / 7.4.8.(1 to 10 incl) / 7.4.11.(1 to 3 incl)

To keep costs down we accept "in house" scoring, (PLEASE NOTE THIS DOES NOT MEAN YOU SCORE YOUR OWN TARGET(S)), by an NSRA or ISSF qualified scorer. Cards CAN and WILL be selected at random to be posted to us for checking, much like the NSRA have done recently during their trialling of 'in house scoring'.

We have one or two shooters who are physically 'less able' than the majority and we do not wish to exclude them....

Prone rifle: May be shot from a chair using a table or attached platform ONLY to rest the elbows on. 'Normal' shooting jacket, sling and glove used. No other supports allowed. DO NOT CONFUSE THIS WITH BENCHREST! Standard aperture sights (No telescopic sights)

LSR: NSRA rules state that all shooting must be conducted standing, unsupported and from the shoulder although we will permit ANY shooter (able bodied or otherwise) to be seated whilst shooting. No seat back, no seat arms. Still from the shoulder and with no other supports. .22Rimfire ONLY

Air Pistol: NSRA/ISSF rules applicable to the shooting position apply with the addition of the 'relaxation' permitting seated shooting. Again, the seat should have no back or sides support and no outside supports or aids will be permitted.

Bench Rest: 25 yds (proportionate) NSRA Rules on targets 2510 BR15-18 ... 20 shots per round - NEW NSRA rules apply

Further information including 'shoot-by dates' will be provided when competition labels are circulated.

Should you wish to pay your entry by internet banking, details are on the entry form.
